CASH IN ON CRV!

CASH IN ON CRV!

Have you looked at your receipts lately? You should! You might notice a 25-cent charge for each paper bag, and a 5-cent California Redemption Value (CRV) charge for each can, plastic bottle, or glass bottle of your favorite drinks. January 1, 2024 stores started charging 10 to 25 cents CRV on your bottle or box of spirits. If you currently redeem your CRV at the Ben Lomond Transfer Station, it's time to make a change to save money, time, and gas costs for those trips to Ben Lomond.

Next time you visit the store, ask how to redeem your CRV items and get ready for more saving, and less driving. When you head to the market or store, place your emptied CRV items in your reuseable bag. Returning 24 cans or empty bottles at 5 cents each would bring you $1.20; returning more cans, bottles, box wine, pouches and other redeemable CRV containers brings even more that you can use towards your purchase. Bringing your reusable bags saves you more, and every penny counts!

As of July 1, 2025 the Ben Lomond Transfer Station CRV redemption center will not be available for CRV redemption. However, starting January 1, 2025 any beverage retailer will have to either join a dealer cooperative or offer in-store redemption to customers. Don't wait to cash in! Do it weekly when you go shopping. Most places such as supermarkets will refund up to 50 cans or bottles so stay current to prevent a pile up.

What stores take CRV? Scan this code and enter your zip code to find CRV redemption stores near you.

RECYCLING HEROS

Santa Cruz Gardens Elementary School

Ms. Einaudi's 1st and 2nd grade class at Santa Cruz Gardens Elementary sorts their trash, recycling and organics in the classroom to help reinforce what goes where. They went to the Ben Lomond Transfer Station on a class trip to see what happens to their trash that is transferred to the landfill. Alex said in his field trip report, "The best part was the garbage, it got crushed like little pieces." Students were sad to see a perfectly good-looking toy become buried amongst the trash.

Caleb Jones

Congratulations to Eagle Scout, Caleb Jones from Troop 604 in Felton! Caleb worked with multiple businesses to create this Waste Sorting Center he made for Brook Knoll Elementary School. IT IS AMAZING.

KNOW WHAT GREENWASTE RECOVERY RECYCLES!

It might seem like buying products with "recyclable" written on the label is a great move, but is that item actually recyclable in your curbside program?

Please review our acceptable recyclable materials and consider whether or not an item is recyclable locally when purchasing.

SWAP SINGLE-USE TO REUSABLE

Even one simple swap from single-use to reusable can make a difference in reducing trash:

SINGLE USE
Travel toiletries
Paper napkins
Plastic utensils
Tissues
Packaged deli & meats
Takeout cups
Plastic bottles
Dryer sheets
Liquid laundry detergent in plastic
Paper towels
Plastic zip bags
Products in plastic packaging

REUSABLE SWAP
Refill small containers
Cloth napkins
Spork or silverware
Cloth handkerchief or bandana
Butcher counter
Thermal mug/cup
Refillable bottle
Dryer balls
Laundry detergent sheets
Cloth towels
Silicone bags
Refill your containers from bulk

SUMMER CELEBRATIONS

Summer is a great time to get together outdoors for a barbeque with friends and family. Skip the single-use items that get thrown in the trash. Use real plates, glasses and silverware. Have your friends bring a to-go container for leftovers to remind them of the fun you had together! For more tips on zero waste celebrations, check protectyourcentralcoast.org/tips/celebrations/

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE (HHW) PROGRAM

Many common household products are legally defined as hazardous. If a product label has the words danger, caution, poison or “handle with care” then it’s likely HHW. Items such as batteries, cell phones, computers, smoke detectors, solar panels and propane cylinders can pose a threat to human health, animals, and the environment when improperly used or disposed. Hazardous items cannot be disposed in the trash or recycling. The Household Hazardous Waste Collection Program with trained professionals provides the only proper way to dispose of hazardous products when they are no longer wanted.

HHW Collection Facilities are open FREE OF CHARGE to residents of the unincorporated County of Santa Cruz and the Cities of Scotts Valley, Capitola and Santa Cruz. Please bring proof of residency with you (e.g. driver license, utility bill). For locations and hours of operation, check our website at www.santacruzcountyrecycles.org.

When you buy batteries, check if they are alkaline or lithium. Knowing what type of battery you are buying can help you to know how to dispose of your used batteries. Always tape the two terminals on a 9-volt battery, and both ends of lithium batteries. If terminals touch each other or other metal, they could spark a reaction.

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY TAKE BACK PROGRAM

The Santa Cruz County Take Back Program allows you to take back certain hazardous items to a retail location for disposal, to save you a trip to the HHW Collection Facility.
